

INPOWER – reclaim your authority – to UK readers

Back in November 2018, Tina invited Cal over to the UK to speak about our Notice of Liability (NoL). Ever since, we have been working diligently with a small team to adapt the NoL for use in the UK. Now we are thrilled to share our Notice of Liability regarding Trespassing Technology for those living in the UK!

We have about 50 seats available for our official launch happening this Sunday, March 3, 2019 at 5pm, London time.

This will be the very first time we share the finalized Notice of Liability (NoL) for Trespassing Technology in the UK, which is the first round document of our commercial administrative process.

Cal will be teaching us about key concepts in the NoL for about 45 minutes and then we will discuss logistics in getting self-organized to autograph, properly witness, and send the NoL to your selected Respondents.

If you would like to attend the webinar or receive on-demand recording of this event, please give a one-time financial gift here and then send an email message to support@inpowermovement.com with the following information:

1. Your name
2. State your interest in attending the March 3, 2019 Webinar
3. Date of gift given
4. Amount given
5. Email address to send the registration link

Other attendees have given gifts ranging between $25 – $150+ USD. Please give what you can – your financial gift goes directly to make the NoL available to others worldwide.

Please do not delay! March 3rd is fast approaching and the seating is limited.

We hope you'll join us this Sunday!

InPower Core Team

P.S. We're sorry the registration process is a little clunky right now. We are working to make things more seamless and accessible, and your financial gift helps us reach that goal faster. Thank you for your patience and support!
